

The Canadian University College EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AWARD

Nomination Form

As a member of the student body, faculty, or administration of Canadian University College you have the opportunity of nominating a college teacher for the Excellence in Teaching Award. While one may evaluate an instructor from several perspectives, including community service and research, this award focuses on the craft of teaching. Therefore, candidates for the award should display (1) the values that underlie Christian education, (2) mastery of their academic discipline, (3) skill in the clarity and substance of their presentations, (4) the ability to stimulate student interest and motivate student achievement, (5) competence and fairness in evaluating student performance, (6) interest in and accessibility to students beyond class time, (7) commitment to improvement in teaching, and (8) effectiveness in preparing students for future study and work.
