A Newsletter for Burman University

Thursday, 11 February 2021

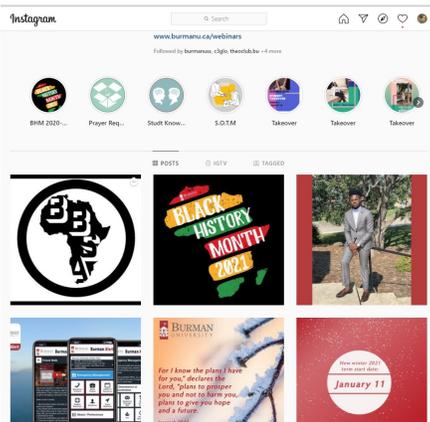

Family Day Break! February 13—15. Classes resume Tuesday, February 16

Burman Students - On behalf of the Marketing and Enrolment Team, we are excited to share with you the new ways we are connecting with prospective students and parents. We have revamped our Instagram account. We are taking your experiences on campus and sharing them with the world.

Make sure you give our Burman Instagram account (@burmanuniversity) a follow.

- We will be highlighting some of our student's talents.
- We will be promoting events on campus and keeping you updated on the latest information
- You can submit your prayer requests every Sunday for the start of the new week.
- We will be having takeovers by our students on campus and those studying remotely
- We will be having Student of the Month

How to deal with the unprofitable Customer

Dr. Robert Opoku

Unprofitable customers are becoming a big drag on the bottom-line of many businesses. They consume more resources than they pay for. They divert attention from a company's profitable customers, and they create tension between the sales team and management. The instinct is to get rid of them but there are a host of reasons why they are unprofitable. In this seminar, we will address a host of potential solutions to make them profitable and how to terminate a customer relationship if it becomes necessary to do so.

Dr. Robert Opoku is the lead marketing instructor at the Donald School of Business, Red Deer College. He is also the owner and lead consultant at Fredma Business Services Inc., an Alberta-based strategy consulting, training and research boutique. His academic pursuit and working career have resulted in the privilege of living, consulting, teaching and developing Management and Marketing-related courses on four continents - Africa, Asia, Europe and North America. Robert has a PhD in Marketing with specialization in e-Commerce. He is also a Certified e-Commerce Consultant™ (CEC) and a member of the Chartered Institute of Marketing, UK.

The BURMAN UNIVERSITY MISSIONS TEAM has an opportunity for you to help in a local mission project. We are looking for individuals willing to volunteer some time to help the Maskwacis Ministry with their media productions. This may include content creation, correspondence management or other areas. Please, respond to missions@burmanu.ca if you are interested or want more information. Also, there is a virtual mission initiative coming up for March Break. Check your email in the following weeks for more information on how you can participate.

PEAC244, Badminton, is still open and will begin on February 24, if the gym is available. Register now.
