Unprofitable customers are becoming a drag on the bottom-line of many business. They consume more resources than they pay for and divert attention from a company's profitable customers. The instinct is to get rid of them but there are a host of reasons why they are unprofitable. In this seminar, we will address a host of potential solutions to make them profitable and how to terminate a customer relationship if it becomes necessary to do so. The speaker for this session is Dr. Robert Opoku, the lead marketing instructor at the Donald School of Business at Red Deer College. He is also the owner and lead consultant at Fredma Business Services Inc., an Alberta-based strategy consulting, training and research boutiques. SMILE FOR THE DAY

2 weeks ago, I told kids at school to write an essay titled 'If I Were a Millionaire.'

Everyone was writing, except a girl who leaned back with arms folded.

"What's the matter," I asked. "Why aren't you writing?"

"I'm waiting for my secretary," she replied.

Scored her 10/10.
